...A WORKSHOP IS A PLACE TO GATHER IDEAS, A PLACE TO START THINGS COOKING ... NOT THE PLACE TO PREPARE THE FINISHED MEAL.

- Jean Formo

We only do well what we do with joy.

Go enjoy!

Most learning feels awkward and sometimes frustrating at the beginning. That's a normal and natural part of the process – don't be discouraged or put off by it.

Learning is easier when you are relaxed and enjoying yourself, so as a student of this class you are hereby authorized and permitted to...

Loosen up!

Have fun!

Play!

Entertain a childlike curiosity

Make a mess!

Experiment

MAKE MISTAKS!

Laugh!

Enjoy yourself!

You are not expected to create masterpieces – it is simply hoped that you will know more by the end of class than you did at the beginning.*

You see the work of others for what it is. You see your own for what it isn't.*

Don't say "I can't ____"

instead say "I can't ____ yet"

That way you leave room for growth & improvement.*

Quotes from a Peter Thornton class.
